The Lodge has an unsurpassed reputation for providing guests with luxury accommodation at one of the most renowned 5-star hotels in Ireland. With every small detail carefully considered, the standard of accommodation at Doonbeg is unprecedented, offering a distinct departure from generic hotel offerings and raising a new benchmark for the discerning guest.

Accommodations are designed with golfers in mind. You can choose from your own guest room or suite, but the configurations we really like are the four bedroom ocean view suites. Here, every golfer in a four ball has his or her own luxury bedroom and ensuite – but all the rooms join onto a shared lounge overlooking the Atlantic – which provides the perfect setting to discuss your day on the links over an Irish single malt. Darby's is the ultimate hotel bar. With views across the 18th green and out to the Atlantic, it encapsulates the prevalent style of the Lodge – a relaxed, warm Irish ambience mixed with New England panache. An excellent venue to set up the following day's golf or simply relax and watch the game on the large screen.

Lahinch Golf Club - Old Course

Lahinch has been described as “The St. Andrews of Ireland” and many other complimentary titles, but those who know and love the place firmly believe that Lahinch Golf Club doesn’t need comparison with any of the game’s other world-class venues. From the infant days back in 1892, the Club has stood out on its own merits as a golfing institution like none other. The Old Course is a true championship links developed from the outset by Old Tom Morris and followed by Charles “Mo” Gibson, Dr. Alister McKenzie and in more recent times, Dr. Martin Hawtree. It is home to Ireland’s oldest amateur championship, The South of Ireland, which was first played in 1895. The Old Course is consistently ranked in the Top-50 Golf Courses of the World and is No. 3 in Ireland’s Top 100 Golf Courses. The challenges presented by the course depend on the diverse weather conditions of the Atlantic Ocean. Many of the world’s greatest golfers visit Lahinch in preparation for The Open Championship and some have gone on to raise the Claret Jug.

Ballybunion Golf Club - Old Course

The most recent changes by Dr. Martin Hawtree, adding tees atop several dunes on the Old Course, have landed Ballybunion on the Top-100 World Rankings in the year 2018, at No. 16. To the Irish though, this No. 5 course has held a special place in their hearts for centuries. Host to many championships over the years, this Irish course is a “must-play” if you are in the mood for a true links test.

Waterville Golf Links

When you arrive in Waterville, you can immediately understand why this place was so special to Payne Stewart. A true mystical experience, golf at Waterville Golf Links is truly unlike any other. The beauty of the classic links land, surrounded by the sea, yet forever challenged and shaped by the elements. Over 100 years old, this course moved to the No. 3 course in all of Ireland in 2018, and joined the world rankings for the first time at No. 55. Combining sand dunes, gorse and a myriad of bunkers, this course will leave you feeling a sense of nostalgia, as you wind in and out of the links.

Old Head Golf Links

Old Head of Kinsale is by far one of the most recognizable courses in all of golf. The stunning peninsula, dotted with bunkers and striped with manicured fairways, offer one of the most majestic scenes the eager golfer can behold. Nevermind the ever-changing direction of the wind, or that in one day, you could experience all four seasons during a mere 18 holes. The links and practice area occupy 180 acres and the remaining 40 acres of unspoilt cliffs frame the course. This iconic beauty provides a stern test to the touring pro and the high handicapper alike.
